The idea behind this book originates from the desire to convey to the reader, in brief and simple terms, what is new both intellectually and socially, with the purpose of fostering communication between different people across the world. This book aims to revive the concept of “logic” in the society, as opposed to the self-deception that arises from transforming one’s actual reality to another “negative” reality, referred to by some as “the language of the era” or “the nature of modernity”. In return to this transformation, we are expected to gradually let go of our responsibilities, duties, and rights, as well as our noble human and religious values. This also means that we will be letting go of the very reasons behind our everlasting happiness, in the world and in the hereafter.

The content of this book does not refer to or address any particular nation, group, or affiliation. It is rather an impartial and abstract layout of ideas for the mere purposes of correcting our choices and leading better lives - despite the ‘harsh’ approach that it sometimes adopts.

In the entirety of the book, the writer refers to ‘some’ rather than ‘all’ people in the society, even though the word ‘some’ may inadvertently be left out.

This book is not based on other readings or references. It solely stems from the reality that we live in - what we hear and see. Its contents are based on pure logic and thought.

May Allah bless you,

Faisal Bin Ali
